

LURED OUT BY RUSE
AND FIRED UPONHarlem Cafe Keeper Escapes Bullets From Tenement Doorway and Policeman Arrests Two.

James Daniels, who runs a cafe at No. 211 East 19th street, was returning from the East 10th Street station, where he had been summoned by a false message, saying that he was wanted by Capt. Hunt, when two men jumped from the doorway of a tenement at No. 211 Second Avenue and fired two shots at him.

Policeman Charles Kelly heard the shots and first grabbed Daniels, who explained that he was the target. Kelly then ran up the stairs, and at the top of the tenement found two men with loaded revolvers. At the Police Station they gave their names as Domenico De Luca, a bartender, of No. 125 East 11th Street, and Joseph Pinto, twenty-four, a stone cutter, of No. 227 East 10th Street. They were ordered arraigned on a charge of felonious assault and violation of the Sullivan Law in Harlem Police Court to-day.

400 early spring hats
$4.49 and $5.49Outclass All Trimmed Hats Elsewhere
Similarly Priced

Spring shapes, in the new materials, fashioned with skill,
make these hats unusual at this time of unstable conditions.
There is such a variety here of reasonably priced hats that the smartly dressed woman of today will gladly take advantage of our spring millinery showing. There are Smart hats, with lacquered raffia facings, in three-color combinations.
Tricornes, rolled sailors and high-front effects.
Straw and fabric combinations, representing the early Spring modes.
New medium-sized chapeaux.
Smaller turban effects, with flowers.

to wear to school now, and to summer frolics later in the season. They are so fresh and clean looking that they bring with them a springtime atmosphere and youthful grace.

at $7.74

A—A soft plaid gingham that will stand ever so many tubbings, used for a frock with a panelled front and short full peplum. The sash ties in a great bow at the back. The collar and cuffs are of organdie, crisp white and frilled, and in Copenhagen, pink and yellow.

at $9.74

B—A two-piece coat dress model that may be had in either chambray or Rancie linen. The collar and cuffs are of linen and trimmed with a stitching, while the blouse is hand-embroidered in cross stitch design down the front. A narrow sash completes this becoming costume for the girl who is at the "hard to fit" stage of her life. In rose, Copenhagen, green and tan. Sizes 12 to 16 years.

"Right shape" shoes
for growing feet

There is nothing that should require more earnest consideration on the part of parents than the matter of proper footwear for the growing feet of their boys and girls.

Macy's "Right Shape" Shoes are the result of years of scientific study and careful experimentation.

That Macy's "Right Shape" Shoes serve well and wear still better is attested to by their ever-increasing popularity.
Bring up your boys and girls in Macy's "Right Shape" Shoes and foot troubles will forever be unknown to them.

at considerable savingsAdam Period Console, 1919 Model, $188.00
Price of 1920 Models, $234.00

A purchase now will save nearly $50.00

Widdicomb phonographs have for some time been recommended by us as our idea of the best phonograph, fashioned after period models, in this country.

Discriminating people who have bought Widdicombs here have agreed that these period model Widdicombs are without a peer.

We have a limited number of the 1919 model (illustrated) and offer it at a considerable saving to you.

In the 1920 model of the Adam Console there have been several minor changes—but the increased cost is undoubtedly mainly due to the increased cost of labor and materials.

The 1919 model does not differ from the new model in tone, cabinet work, design, size or in any other essential detail. The exquisite tone and reproduction of Widdicomb are present in the machine at $188.00, with a saving of nearly $50.00 on the 1920 price.

Demonstrations cheerfully given.

We also have a few of the 1919 Queen Anne models selling at $211.00
whereas the price of the 1920 model is $259.00.

Either the Adam or Queen model may be obtained in mahogany or walnut finishes.

(full size)

A purchase of last summer—the shipment delayed—explain in brief
why these comfortables are offered at this low price.
Advances in price on this kind of comfortables have been many since the original purchase, so that they are priced at today's wholesale cost.
Excellent in appearance and in addition are good, warm coverings filled with a fine grade of pure lamb's wool.
They come in figured centres with plain satin and silk borders to match.

$8.89

Worn with woolen socks these oxfords are the vogue among well-dressed men today.
In both black and tan models, also a plain oxford of tan or black leather on a neat conservative last.
Made of strong leather—a better oxford than you might expect at the price.

Shoes of economy and service are these

Men's tan and black shoes
$5.94

Good walking shoes at this price are indeed unusual, which fact explains the big demand for these shoes.
The tan shoes are made of stout leather with a rubber heel and a rubber insert the entire length of the shoe to keep out dampness.
The black model is made on an equally conservative, comfortable last. Not all sizes in the lot and all are in wide widths only.
Comfort, wearing quality and economy are all in these shoes.
